Working in a Mango Course

As you’re working in Mango, you will notice how the words are color coded. In the example below, you can see that each word is a different color. Match the colors to the Japanese characters, and learn what characters they use to represent the words you’re saying!

If you hover over the speaker you can see what you’re trying to say phonetically, if you click the speaker you can hear it said again.

You can hover over each character to see how to say it, and click to hear JUST that character.

When you see the little microphone icon you can record yourself, and try your hand at practicing what you’ve learned. You can drag your recording to match it with the original, play them by themselves, or play them together to see how you match up!

When you run into a slide with a clock on it, you have a minute to figure out how you would say the word. If you don’t remember, you can either add more time or show the answer. Check your answer, and then advance to the next slide.

Each lesson will build on the things you’ve learned.

We hope you enjoy using Mango! If you have any questions feel free to call the Ephrata Public Library at (717) 738-9291.
